With the passage of Senate Bill 2048 during the 64th Legislative Session the Department of Human Services (DHS) was appropriated funding to administer a voucher system to pay for substance use disorder treatment services. Process & Outcome Measures

	Process Measures	Outcome Measures
What is it?	Describes what was DONE	Identifies RESULTS
What is an Example?	How many individuals were served or how many individuals completed treatment	What percentage of individuals experienced improvement in health, home, community, and purpose
How is it captured?	Questions will be imbedded into the Individual SUD Voucher Application and Prior Authorization and Continued Stay Forms	Providers complete Pre and Post SUD Voucher Service Data on-line using non-identifying information. Please see the "Providing Services" module of this guidance document for more information
Why is this important?	Process Measures will assist with identifying what services were provided across ND and who was accessed the SUD Voucher	Outcome measures will identify the effectiveness of the services provided under the SUD Voucher
Is this information kept confidential?	BHD is required to maintain confidentiality consistent with 42 CFR Part 2 and 45 CFR Part 164 requirements

Ultimately, process and outcome measures will assist with future planning and funding efforts, identify where targeted training and technical assistance is needed, and to provide information to the ND Legislature and Stakeholders.

Trauma-Informed

“A trauma-informed approach to the delivery of behavioral health services includes an understanding of trauma and an awareness of the impact it can have across settings, services, and populations. It involves viewing trauma through an ecological and cultural lens and recognizing that context plays a significant role in how individuals perceive and process traumatic events, whether acute or chronic.”

Trauma Informed Involves FOUR KEY ELEMENTS of a Trauma-Informed Approach:

1. Realizing the prevalence of trauma;
2. Recognizing how trauma affects all individuals involved with the program, organization, or system, including its own workforce;
3. Responding by putting this knowledge into practice; and
4. Resisting retraumatization.

“Trauma-Informed Care is a strengths-based service delivery approach that is grounded in an understanding of and responsiveness to the impact of trauma, that emphasizes physical, psychological, and emotional safety for both providers and survivors, and that creates opportunities for survivors to rebuild a sense of control and empowerment.”

Guiding Principles of Trauma-Informed Care:

- ▮ SAFETY: Throughout the organization, staff and the people they serve feel physically and psychologically safe.
- ▮ TRUSTWORTHINESS & TRANSPARENCY: Organizational operations and decisions are conducted with transparency and the goal of building and maintaining trust among staff, clients, and family members of those receiving services.
- ▮ PEER SUPPORT & MUTUAL SELF-HELP: These are integral to the organizational and service delivery approach and are understood as a key vehicle for building trust, establishing safety, and empowerment.

▮ COLLABORATION & MUTUALITY: There is true partnering and leveling of power differences between staff and clients and among organizational staff from direct care staff to administrators. There is recognition that healing happens in relationships and in the meaningful sharing of power and decision-making. The organization recognizing that everyone has a role to play in a trauma-informed approach. One does not have to be a therapist or therapeutic.

▮ EMPOWERMENT, VOICE & CHOICE: Throughout the organization and among the clients served, individuals' strengths are recognized, built on, and validated and new skills developed as necessary. The organization aims to strengthen the staff's, clients' and family members' experience of choice and recognize that every person's experience is unique and requires an individualized approach. This includes a belief in resilience and in the ability of individuals, organizations and communities to heal and promote recovery from trauma. This builds on what clients, staff, and communities have to offer, rather than responding to perceived deficits.

▮ CULTURAL, HISTORICAL, & GENDER ISSUES: The organization actively moves past cultural stereotypes and biases (e.g., based on race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, age, geography), offers gender responsive services, leverages the healing value of traditional cultural connections, and recognizes and addresses historical trauma.

Person-Centered Care

“Care that is based on the person’s and/or family’s self-identified hopes, aspirations, and goals, which build on the person’s and/or family’s own assets, interests, and strengths, and which is carried out collaboratively with a broadly defined recovery management team that includes formal care providers as well as others who support the person’s or family’s own recovery efforts and processes, such as employers, landlords, teachers, and neighbors.”

“Person-Centered Care describes the effort to ensure that mental health care is centered on the needs and desires of the consumer. It means that consumers set their own recovery goals and have choices in the services they receive, and they can select their own recovery support team. For mental health providers person-centered care means assisting consumers in achieving goals that are personally meaningful.”
